The Now House Windsor 5 project has retrofitted five post war bungalows into near zero energy homes. One home is open for viewing.

- > Visit this 60-year-old post-war bungalow that has been taught to pay its own energy bills.
- > Take home some ideas of how to green your home—from spray foam insulation and energy-saving appliances to tankless water heaters and solar energy.
- > Bring the kids so they can test their Watt IQ in the electricity room.
- > See display panels that illustrate every step of the energy retrofit.
- > Check out the 1940s movie showing how wartime houses were built.
